The order used in the directory concerning organizations and societies in each chapter is submitted to mere technical needs and not for other criteria .

Foreword :

When we began thinking to publish the 1st directory of NGO s working in the human rights field in Yemen , all friends have applauded the idea not only for the importance of compying down these infromation but also because this will be the most important way for communication among these organizations . The idea faced many complicated difficulties , which prevented the implementation for three years . some of the main diffculties were:

1- The number of organizations and their continvity is not stable .

The first research carried out by HRITC in 1998 was completely changed in less than ayear .

when resuming again in 2001, we found that many names appeared and many organizations have stopped their activities.

2- Many NGO s are unable to communicate and identify their activities , thus , researchers could not reach them .

3- Some organizations have negatively responded in the sense that some of our researchers recieved no cooperation by some societies on the basis of the fact that all their activities and aims are considered top confidential and no one should be informed of the same .

- 4- Lack of unified legal reference for these organizations . many of them are registered in more than one official sector. Most official institutions also lack scientific documentation for such organizations .

As planned by HRITC , the directory should be introductory and also an analytical study on the civil society organizations in Yemen . Finally , we concluded that , the directory should be issued to deliver the basic information on these organizations e.g : name , address , aims , activities and contact persons aiming to present direct service for all, whether the organizations , the official bodies , the media or the different international organizations . We know that some organizations are not included in this directory , either we couldn't reach them or to reasons arised by them , but it is not with intention that their names are not included.

We hope to recieve as quickly as possible positive reaction from all colleagues and to send any information on their organizations or others to be included in the coming edition .

I would like here to explain the method we used to collect the information in this directory . The HRITC teamwork depended on various ways such as :

- 1- The direct field research .
- 2- The direct contact with researchers who previously worked in this arena to provide us with information to facilitate our work .
- 3- Returning back to earlier researches prepared by other bodies , especially the great work done by the Ministry of Social Affairs & Work . Here we would like to offer special thanks and appreciation for their collaboration .
- 4- After the initial preparation , a primary copy was printed at a limited number and was distributed to those interested and to researchers in order to give their remarks and notes before a final copy is printed. It is worth mentioning that this work has taken effort and time . We are proud of this and of our wonderful colleagues whom we offer heartfelt thanks for their generous time and informed perspectives especially that a special electronic site was created for this directory.

Finally , I have to explain an important point : The directory is limited to NGOs working on human rights and relevant fields , we did not mention charitable societies since their number is nearly 3000 ones and that requires greater effort . Since the number of non-working organizations is unpredictable, we chose to publish a more professional directory in order to be of greater benefit.

We have allocated a chapter for international and foreign organizations working in Yemen .

Special thanks and gratitude to Ms. Salwa Al-Saraby for the intelligent and important remarks and revision of the draft of this directory .
